When I wandered in the wild-wood Wish thy little hand in mine ! And I cannot help from weeping, That those happy days are gone, And that thou art far from me, coz, And that I am all alone.

Ah! those gilded hours are vanished, And the e sun lit years are gone, But my he of clings foully to thee,— Darling, long loved, absent one! Ofton in the waking hour,

And in every nightly dream, Thy blue eyes seem foully ever 'Pon my went capul to beam! Oh! to sit beedle thee always,-

Always press that little hand, And to have thee sweetly guide me To the far off " hoppy land."-Were a blessing, sweeter, purer Than the gold of earth can give; For twere better to die with thee, Than without thy love to live!

Visit of Bryard Taylor to Humboldt,

BELIN, Nov. 25, 1856 .- I came to Ber in, not to visit its museums and galleries nagnificent streets of lindens, its opera and theatres, not to mingle in the gay life of its streets and saloons, but for the sake of seeing and speaking with the world's greatest living man Alexander Von Hum-

At present, with his great age and hi universal renown, regarded as a throned monarch in the world of science, his friends have been obliged, perforce, to protect him from the exhausting homage of his thou-sands of subjects, and, for his own sake, to make difficult the way of access to him. The friend and familiar companion of the King, he may be said, equally, to hold his own court, with the privilege, however, of at any time breaking through the formali-ties which only self defence has rendered necessary. Some of my works, I knew. had found their way into his hands. I was at the beginning of a journey which would probably lead me through regions which his feet has traversed and his genius illustrated, and it was not merely a natural curiosity which attracted me toward him. followed the advice of some German friends, and made use of no mediatory influence, but simply despatched a note to him, stating my name and object, and asking for interview.

Three days afterwards I seceived, through the city post, a reply in his own hand, stating that although he was suffering from a cold which had followed his removal from Potsdam to the capital, he would willingly receive me, and appointed one o'clock to day for the visit. I was punctual to the minute, and reached his residence in the Oranten burger stracsce as the clock struck. While in Berlin he lives with his servant. Seifert, whose name only I found on the door. It was a plain two story house, with a dull pink front, and inhabited, like most of the houses in German cities, by two or three females. The bell wire over Seifert's name came from the second story. I pulled, the heavy parte cochere opened of itself, and I mounted the steps until I reached a second bell-pull, over a plate inscribed, "Alexander Von Humboldt."

A stout, squarc-faced man, of about fifty, whom I at once recognised as Seifert, opened the door for me. "Are you here, Tay-"His excellency is ready to receive you. He ushered me into a room filled with stuffed birds and other objects of natural history; then into a large library, which apparently contained the gifts of authors, artists. and men of science. I walked between two long tables heaped with sumptuous folios, to the further door, which opened into the study. Those who have seen the admirable fithograph of Hildebrand's picture, know precisely how the room looks. There was the plain table, the writing desk covered with papers and manuscript, the little green sofa and the same maps and pie tures on the drap colored walls. The pic ture had been so long hanging in my own room at home, that I at once recognised each particular object. Seifert went to an inner door, announced my name, and humboldt immediately appeared. He came up to me with a heartiness which made me feel that I was in the presence of a friend, gave me his hand, and inquired whether he should converse in English or German. "Your letter," said he, "was that of a German, and you must certainly speak the language familiarly; but I am also in the constant habit of using English." He insisted on my taking one end of the green sofa, observing that he rarely sat upon it himself, then drew up a plain cane bottomed chair and seated himself beside it, asking me to speak a little louder than usual, as his hearing was not

As I looked at the majestic old man, the line of Tennyson, describing Wellington, came into my mind; "Oh, good gray head, which all men know." The first impression made by Humboldt's face is that of a broad genial humanity. His massive brow, heavy with the gathered wisdom of nearly a century, bends forward and overhangs his breast like a ripe ear of corn, but as you look below it a pair of clear blue eyes, almost as bright and steady as a child's, meet your own. In those eyes you read that trustin man, that immortal youth of the heart, which makes the snows of eightyty-seven winters lie so lightly upon his head. You trust him utterly at first glance, and you feel that he will trust you, if you are worthy of it. I had approached him with a natural feeling of reverence, but in five minutes I found that I loved him, and could talk with him as freely as with a friend of my own age. His nese, month ter, whose genuine type always expresses been frequently indisposed during the present year, and had been told that he was beginning to show the marks of his extreme age; but I should not have suspected him of being over seventy-five. His wrinkles are himself in the following terms: few and small, and his skin has a smoothdant, his step slow but firm, and his manner active almost to recklessness. He sleeps attention. I could not perceive that his contempt for himself, he retires, in order to the boat. Hoops forever! make way for memory, the first mental faculty to show recruit his moral constitution."

an honest simplicity and directness.

with the greatest apparent case, never castating for a word, whether in English or German, and in fact, seemed to be uncon-scious which language he was using, as he changed five or six times in the course of the conversation. He did not remain in his chair more than ten minutes at a time, frequently getting up and walking about the room, now and then pointing at a pic-ture or opening a book to illustrate some remark.

He began by referring to my winter jour-ney into Lapland. "Why do you choose the winter?" he asked. "Your experience will be very interesting, it is true, but will you not suffer from the severe cold?" "That remains to be seen," I answered. "I have tried all climates except the Arctic without the least injury. The last two years of my travels were spent in tropical countries, and now I wish to have the strongest possible contrast." "That is quite natural," he remarked, "and I can understand how your object to travel must lead you to seek such contrasts; but you must possess a remarka-bly healthly organization." "You doubtless know from your own experience," I said, "that nothing preserves a man's vitality like travel." "Very true," he answered, "if it does not kill at the outset. For my part, I keep my health everywhere, like yourself During five years in South America and the West Indies, I passed through the midst of black yomit and yellow fever un ouched. I spoke of my projected visit to Russia, and my desire to traverse the Russian-Tartar provinces of Central Asia. The Kirghiz steppes, he said, were very monotonous; fif-ty miles gave you the picture of a thousand; but the people were exceedingly interesting.

If I desired to go there, I would have no difficulty in passing through them to the Chinese frontier; but the Southern provinces of Siberia, he thought, would best repay me. The scenery among the Altar Mountains was very grand. From his window, in one of the Siberian towns, he counted eleven peaks covered with eternal snow The Kirghizes, he added, were among the few races whose habits had remained un changed for thousands of years, and the had the remarkable peculiarity of combi ning a monastic with nomadic life. They were partly Budhurst and partly Mussu man, and their monkish sects followed th different clans in their wanderings, carrying on their devotions in the encampments, in side a sacred circle marked out by spears He had seen their ceremonies, and was struck with their resemblance to those of the Catholic Church. Among the objects in his study was a living chameleon in a box with a glass lid. The animal, which was about six inches long, was lazily dozing on a bed of sand, with a blue fly, (the unconscious provision for his dinner,) perched upon his back. "He has just been sent to me from Smyrna," said Humboldt; "he is very listless and unconcerned in his manner." Just then the chameleon opened one of his long, tubular eyes, and looked up at us. "A peculiarity of this animal," he continued, "is its power in looking in different directions at the same time time. He can turn one eye toward Heaven, while the other inspects the earth. There are many clergymen who have the same power."

He also spoke of our authors, and in

He also spoke of our authors, and in-quired particularly after Washington Ir-ying, whom he had once seen. I told him I had the fortune to know Mr. Irving, and had seen him not long before leaving New York. "He must be at least fifty years old" said Handolds. Me is seventy answered, "but young as ever." he, "I have lived so long that I have almost lost the consciousness of time. I belong to the age of Jefferson and Gallatin, and I heard of Washington's death while not always wait for an answer, the ques- ill for a number of weeks. At length a tion itself suggesting some reminiscence, or | bright thought struck him, and he went ensome thought which he had evident pleas- thusiastically about its accomplishment, ure in expressing. I sat or walked, follow-ing his movements an eager listener, and ame was raised in bed, and had her toilette speaking in alternate English and German, made in anticipation of her husband's visuatil the time which he had granted to me it. At length the door opened, and in had expired. Seifert at length re-appeared, came four men, bearing a heavy burden and said to him in a manner at once re carefully enveloped. It was stood on end, spectful and familiar, "It is time," and I and the bearers were requested to uncover took my leave. hand again; "now you have seen one more." "Not a ruin," I could not help replying, "but a Pyramid." For I pressed the hand with this "shadow cast before" of the which had touched those of Frederick the next coming event which would most pro-Great, of Foster, the companion of Capt. bably demand the proof of his assiduous Cook, of Klopstock, and Schiller of Pitt, tenderness, stood waiting for the kiss of Napoleon, Josephine, the Marshals of the gratitude. Empire, Jefferson, Hamilton, Wisland, Her-der, Geethe, Cuvier, La Plate, Guy Lussack, Bethoven, Walter Scott-in short, of ment, instead of endeavoring to repress the every great man whom Europe has produced for three quarters of a century.

As I was passing out through the cabinet me. "I beg your pardon, sir," said he, but do you know what this is? pointing to the antiers of a Rocky Mountain elk. course I do,' said I, 'I have helped to eat many of them.' He then pointed out the other specimens, and took me into the ltbrary to show me some drawings by his son-in-law, Musleausen, who had accompanied Lieut. Whipple in his expedition to now gratifying the Londoners with the the Rocky Mountains. He also showed me light of his countenance, has somewhat of a very elaborate specimen of beadwork, in 'This,' said he, 'is the work of Kirghiz, princess, who presented it to his Excellency when we were on our journey to Siberia 'You accompanied his Excellency then?' I asked. 'Yes,' said he; 'we were there in '29.' Seifert is justly proud of having shared for thirty or forty years the fortunes of customers as a biscuit de savoie, was brought his master. There was a ring, and the servant came in to announce a visitor. 'Ah, the Prince Ypsilanti,' said he; 'don't let him in, don't let a single soul in; I must out sprang the little dwarf aforesaid, attired and chin, have the heavy Tentonic charac- go and dress his Excellency. Sir, excuse as a Paladin of the olden time, to the great me yours, most respectfully,' and there surprise and delight of the guests. The with he bowed himself out. As I descend-little fellow made the round of the table,

> AN EDITOR'S VALEDICTORY .- One of the Press gang out west has recently retired

"The undersigned retires from the editoness and delicacy rarely seen in old men, rial chair with the complete conviction that It was in this wise: About I o'clock a His hair, although snow white, is still abun all is vanity. From the hour he started his targe floe of ice extended across the Fulton paper to the present time he has been so- Ferry Slip, Brooklyn side, so that it was dark. "We are limble to deception," as he licited to lie on every given subject, and necessary to land the passengers at the foot exclaimed when he discovered it to be an but four hours out of the twenty four, reads can't remember having told a wholesome of Orange street. In doing this a lady acand replies to his daily train of letters, and truth without diminishing his subscription cidentally fell into the water, and the crinosuffers no single occurrence of the least in list, or making an enemy. Under these line kept her afloat untill relieved from a terest in any part of the world to escape his circumstances of trial, and having a thorough very unpleasant position by an officer at

Parisian Gassip. | Senator Seward's Fun with Simonton, | The last Okalona (Miss.) Prairie News The Parisians are famous for their crignality. They conceive and accomplish things which no other people in the world would think of, and which no other people in the world would do. Recently an enthusiastic young nobleman of the Freuch capital fell ardently in love with a beautiful and wealthy widow, and in an hour of pleasant conversation at her salon, promised to send her a New Year's present. It was then the last day of the year.

"Why?"

financiering townsman, Wm. L. Hodge, in

Now, that there is and has been deep corruption in Washington these many

Grounds for Divorce.

An Eastern lawyer writes us as follows

An Italian gentleman called at my office a short time since and inquired if he could get divorced from his wife. Now a divorce

ly said that I registle, that our laws favor ed divotes, and thed that if he would in form me particularly in relation to the na

'Italian: 'Well, Squire, to tell the truth, my wife don't know not'ing about cook'n'.'

and hearing nothing, I ventured to ask if the nicest little 'oman you ever see in your

'I waited to learn what was coming next;

'Italian: 'Yes, 'Squire; bating that she is

'I suggested to my distressed client that

'Bless you,' rejoined the Italian, 'I don't Italian becomes silent and thoughtful. In 'Hearing no response, I looked around,

'There is a good moral to this, but I dare not suggest it, for fear of wounding the feelings of some of your 'lady-subscribers.'

I related the foregoing to one of the justices of the Supreme Court of an adjoining

State, and he told me that he was once consulted upon a Sabbath morning, by a rich merchant, concerning a divorce. The judge, who was then a practitioner, objected to doing any business whatever upon the Sabbath; but so urgent were the appeals of his friend, and so profuse his tears, that the judge consented to hear the history of his trials and the particulars of his afflictions.

'Client: 'You know very well, Mr .-

that I was upward of forty years of age when I married Miss B ---; from which time I have not seen one day of real happiness! Perhaps I am somewhat to blame myself. Possibly the discrepancy of our ages may have had something to do with it; but, Mr. B—, if you can only procure for me a divorce, I am willing that you should have the half of my estate, and my

'Judge: 'Well, what is the particular

'Client: 'Well, Mr. B ---, if you come to that, I suppose it must be told. You know my habits of life before marriage?

Yes. Well, whenever now I go home and carry my papers into the library, and by the ly erect, with hands extended, as if fearing she would get back into his lap again be counsellor on this point of law.'

old ugly nigger!

vers are puzzled

fore he heard the opinion of this learned

"I embrace the opportunity," as the fellow said when he kissed the girl in the

A question has been raised in one of our courts, whether a band man can be made liable for a bill payable at sight. The law-

Knickerbocker.

'mode' by which you expect to procure a wife may have the remainder.'

divorce?

and discovered that he had 'quietly stolen

'Then hire a cook to teach your wife.'

know not'ing about cook'n' myself."

'How do you like my advice?'

few minutes I asked:

garded her marriage vows?"

that was all.

away.

s not to be considered hastily, and I grave-

[Sunday Times.

have discovered any, I don't believe.

the Kossuth matter?

"Any news, Mr. Seward?" says he. Now. was then the last day of the year. He to a cabinet maker, ordered him to con-struct, with all haste, a beautiful rosewood box, large enough to contain a man. The the ex governor was just then wicked enough to punish a bore, and he answer-"Of course you have the Russian treaty?" next day the box completed, and elegantly lined. Placing himself, arrayed in his most elegant ball costume, within it, the "The Russian treaty! emphatically cried S-, the Times correspondent, with his lower jaw falling and his eyes protruding. "No, indeed! the Russian treaty!" and he cover was screwed on, and with a perfumed billet on the top, requesting her to open it came a step nearer to the senator, and was immediately, he was conveyed to the house feeling for his note book and pencil. of his inamorata. Unfortunately, however, the air-holes which had been made at th sides proved insufficient for the purposes of life, and when the fair lady proceeded to examine into the nature of her present, he was unconscious and almost lifeless. By her band. In the Home Journal we find translated from a Paris paper the following account of the caprices of an East Indian from Singapore, in the emporium of fashionable the aid of proper measures he was restored to life and health, and it is said that she to whose love he had so nearly fallen a martyr consented to reward his devotion with

"Boundlessly wealthy, he acts like a verified and common place-ified Aladdin. He was first heard of from having fallen in the way of a well-known theatrical mana ger, who happened to be in want of a large sum of money to redeem his property from embarrassment. The Aladdin gave it to him like a pinch of snuff, asking for no security except a free entree and admissio behind the scenes.

Shortly after, this son of Ali-Baba tool a fancy for a charming house that he saw at the foot of a garden in the Champs-Elysees. He stopped the carriage, and rang at the bell. The proprietor happened to be at home. The nabob made him the Eastern salutation, and entered. Walking around and surveying everything, he at last opened the conversation.
"This appears to be a lovely residence."

Yes-it is very well," answered the resi dent, surprised, but still somewhat flattered. "It seems convenient, though small." "Convenient, certainly-but small, did ou savi" "No matter! such as it is I like it, and will buy it." "But, Monsieur, it is not for sale!"

"That makes no difference-how much s it worth?" "What is that to you, Monsieur, since wish to keep it?"

"Pardon me-what is the price?" "Well, then-five hundred thousand francs." "Good! I will give you seven hundred thousand." The owner was staggered, and still hesi-

"But, Monsieur, I reside here-and then my wife"-

"Here is a string of diamonds for your wife, and five thousand more francs for pin money. Will that content you?"

"But-but"-"But what? Take a million francs, then, and give me the keys!"
The same evening the not ob sent hi horses home to the stables of his new house in the Champs-Elysees."

Another Paris journal says that several years since a distinguished gentleman, who died recently in Germany, was very much puzzled to contrive a birth-day present for his beloved wife, suited to her doubtful He asked me many questions, but did state of health-as she had been seriously it, while the eager husband looked on with "You have travelled much and seen many evident expectation of pleasure. The cloths ruins," said Humboldt, as he gave me his fell away-and lo! a tombstone, beautifully sculptured, his wife's name upon it, and only the date of her death left in blank!

It is said that the mania for lotteries is as strong as ever in Paris, and the governevil, aims at making a handsome per centage out of it. As an illustration of the rage after riches, it is related that one inof Natural History, Seifert's voice arrested genious speculator scraped together the sum of a million francs, in cash, for the purpose of exhibiting it for a small consideration to all who wished to behold the object of their desires in a concrete and tangible form. The Paris correspondent of the Saturday Evening Post, says; "That minute sample of an American citizen, General Tom Thumb, who is just a rival in the little 'Prince Colibri,' renowned among contemporaneous dwarfs as much for his grace and agility as for his minuteness of stature. At a grand wedding feast, recently given by one of the richest manufacturers of Lyons, a great silver dish, con taining a magnificent cake, of the sort known to French pastry cooks and their in, at the dessert, by two servants, and placed in the centre of the table. This cake, being deftly opened by one of the waiters, The time I am fairly seated in my chair, in I was most surprised by the youthful character of his face. I knew that he had on the stairs.—N. Y. Tribune.

ed to the street, I passed Prince Ypsilanti bows and smiles with great liberality, preconting each ladie with great liberality each ladie with great liberality, preconting each ladie with great liberality each l senting each lady with a beautiful boquet."

THE USE OF HOOFS .- The New York Times says: "Let the croakers against from the profession in disgust, and justifies 'hoops" hereafter hold their peace. The life of a female was saved on Friday by their means and the added aid of a man, them!"

has the following paragraph, which the la-dies will please "skip:" Nobody seems to have heard of that chap in Aberdeen who just came home from a year's absence in Nicaragua. On his way up from the landing he met quite a number of ladies. After kissing his sister, &c. 'pray,' said he, 'are all the girls in Aberbrother, Miss A— isn't married. Not married! Nor Miss B——! nor Miss C——!

nor Miss—?"
"Oh, pshaw! brother,' said sis, just beginning to catch the idea, 'that's nothing out Hoors."

A Schenectady editor, describing the effects of a squall on a canal boat, says: When the gale was at its highest, the un fortunate craft keeled to the !arboard, and he captain and another cask of brandy rolled overboard, and were both lost."

feeling for his note book and pencil.

"Now I think of it," added Seward, with the faintest possible shadow of a devil in his eye, "you couldn't have seen it, for I have the only copy outside of the State Department. Old relations with my old CRINGLINE IN RHYME. - A lady with a crinclin carrotage in RHYME.—A lady with a crimonic was walking down the street—her feathers fullered in the nir—her hoops stuck out a feet. She walked the earth as if she felt of it she was no part, and proudly did she step along, for pride was in her heart. She did not see a curly dog which walked close to her side, all save the bushy tail of which Albany rival, Marcy, eht-ahem!-you understand?" And the dignified senator gave very undignified wink. He rose to shut her crinoline did hide. He will the dog with pleasure shook—it fluttered in the wind, and from the lady shook—it fintered in the wind, and from the lady's erinoline stack out a foot behind. A crowd the tail a son did espy, as it waved to and fro, and like a rudder seemed to point which way the maid should go. The early dog right pleased was he such quarters he had got, and walked beside the lady in a kind of doggish trot. Each step the lady now did take, served to increase her train, while those who followed in her wake roared out with might and main. Some held their sides and laughed so hard, and many fairly cried, and many even still confess that day they'd "like to died." But still the lady sailed along, and crinoline and pride, unmindful of the erowd behind, or dog close by her side. But soon another dog espied the tail which fluttered free—it so provoked his doggish ire he could not let it be—but with a deep ferocious growl, for battle straight he went, and 'neath the lady's crinoline both dogs were quickly pent. They lought 'its said one hour or 'more—the lady nothing knew—but with her head erect sailed on, and did her way pursue. Some say she never would have known at all about the fields that and the straight her head erect sailed on, and did her way pursue. the door, locked it, and drew from under a pile of papers a huge document, which was in reality a musty patent, and pretended to read. Out came the note-book of the gullible correspondent of the gullible New York Times; and his pencil flew like lightning despatch, as the governor invented a reaty all about ceding the Russian possessions, and allowing the United States the monoply of commerce in the "Black Sea," in consideration of the United States agree ing to help her in taking Cuba, &c., &c. When the governor could no longer refrain from laughter, and the gullible correspondent's pencil was pretty well worn down, ne stopped. "Now, S-, you ain't going to publish all that, ch?" head erect sailed on, and an her way pursue.

Some say she never would have known at all about the fight, had not one deg mistook and gave her "limb" an awful bite. But since that day, I've heard it said, the lady ne'er was seen upon the street with so much pride—and such a crinoline. Only a synopsis. I shall instantly telegraph it to Raymond."
"Well, I hope you won't."

Doings of A Rich Heiness .- The New York "Simply, my dear S-, because it is correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger writes:

"The Express tells of a great excitement on Saturday in the Convent of the Sisters of Mercy, corner of Houston and Mulberry streets, in consequence of the flight from there of a young lady who all a sell!" and the now roaring senator turned up the patent and exhibited it to him. "I merely wanted to gauge, as a matter of curiosity, the capacity of swallowhad, in a fit of disappointed love, turned nun some two years since. The time was approaching when she was expected to take the black veil, in which case some $70,000 to which she is heiress would go into the treasury of the church. Some of the ing humbug which the New York reporter has; and also to teach you a lesson. I gull you, but am honest enough to say so be fore any false reports get out. Others will go into the treasury of the church. Some of the relatives of the young lady, however, persuaded her to abondon her intention of taking the veil, and at the eleventh hour, as it were, she consented, and made tracks from the institution as above described. This is the substance of the story. The Express gave the initials of the dramatis pers na, but now that the eat is out of the bag, your correspondent of the transfer of the tr stuff you and not tell you.

The reporter was seen a few minutes af ter chewing up a pencil and scattering little bits of paper all along the rotunda. The best of this story is that it is true, and some day ought to appear in a new edition of pondent might as well give names in full.

The young lady is Miss Pauline Costar, a grand daughter of the celebrated Madame de Pau, daugh Seward's life. Don't you remember how the Times was humbugged by our gigantic ter of the late Count de Grasse. The young gen-tleman who refused to reciprocate her affection is Walter Livingston, Esq. The parties are all oc-cupants of the highest nicke in the temple of fash-ion here, and as you may guess, this bit of romance in real life has created no little excitement 'above Blooker street.' years, is a moral fact of which we are all convinced; but that Raymond or Simonton Bleeker street."

> GRAND MARRIAGE IN PARIS,-The Paris corre pondent of the Philadelphia American, writing of the marriages in "high life" soon to take place in the marriages in "high life" soon to take place in that city, says:

"Among the number is that of Mademoiselle de Rothschild, of London, to her cousin, Mr. Lionel Rothschild, of Paris; this union is styled the marriage milliard. The extraordinary beauty of the Jewish bride, the immensity of the fortune, and the magnificence of the corbeille, render the celebration of the nuptials quite an event in Parisian society. Fabulous accounts are given of the extraordinary tichness and extraorgance of the co-brille. The brocades, the s, cashineres and embrooderies surpassive accounts are given of the continent have event and embroderies and extraordinary tichness and extraordinary of the continent have events. form me particularly in relation to the na-ture and extent of his grievances, I would all that the manufactories of the continent have out or produced. The bridgesom is said to have found dvise him:

'In what particular has your wife disregarded her marriage vows?'

(In the chefs d'œuvre of the lace rooms of Brussels and Alencous so moderate in price, that he proposed as a substitute for the bridal costume a silk te of silver, far surpassing in magnificence that ssessed by any crowned head of Europe, and the nous Sevres China, which belonged to Marie Antoinette, and for which, besides a very large amount of ready money, M. de Rothschild pays a yearly sum of 10,000 france.

TEXAS AND ARKANSAS -The emigration to thes States from the older slave States is remarkably large, and seems constantly on the increase. A rea divorce would cost forty dollars, and that he could teach his wife to cook for half the cent number of the Memohis Bulletin says: "We have never before observed so large a num

We have never before observed so large a num-ber of emigrants going westward as are crossing the river at this point daily, the two ferry boats (sometimes three) going from early morn until the boats cease making their trips at night. It is no uncommon sight to see from twenty to forty wag-ons encamped on the bluff for the night, notwithstanding there has been a steady stream going across the river all day; and yet the cry is still they come. The emigration is from the older States mostly from Virginia, North and South Carolina Georgia, Alab ma, Miss.ssippi, and this State, all going to settle in Arkansas and Texas. Judging from these indications, the influx of population into these States will be larger this season than ever be Colored Persons at the South.—The Mississippi Legislature has passed a law prohibiting colored persons from preaching. The North Caro-lina Legislature has laid on the table the bill to renove free colored persons from that State.

LINCH'S

Anti-Rheumatic Powders. SAFE, SPEEDY AND RADICAL CURE

FOR RHEUMATISM, RHEUMATIC
GOUT AND SCIATICA.

WE, the undersigned citizens of Putnam County, Georgia, cheerfully bear testimony to the efficacy of Linch's Anti-Rheumatic Powders in the treatment of agute or chronic Rheumatism, many cases having been successfully treated by Dr. J. G. GIBSON, within our personal knowl edge, in which these Powders were principal Branham, M. D. Wm. B. Carter, tephen B. Marshall, B. Harwell, P. R. Adams, Thomas Respess, J. Nichteson & others. number of individual cergates can be given in attestation of their efficacy. Prepared and sold by J. G. GIBSON, M. D.,

Entonton Ga., at $5 per bex.
All orders directed to him, with the above sum enclosed, and a description of the case, shall receive with the Medicine such advice as may suit any peculiarity thereof.
FOR SALE BY

FISHER & HEINITSH, Spartauburg Columbia: W. F. PRATT, Newberry; L. P. BARNETT, Yorkville; G. L. PENN, Edge-field; WARDLAW & LYON, Abbeville; Dr. H. H. HUGGINS, Darlington: REEDY & WYLIE, Chester C. H.; M. B. EARLE, Greenville, and throughout the State generally.

MUSIC!

A VERY large selection of the best and latest improved PI-ANOS of all kinds can be had at RAMSAY'S PIANO FORTE AND MUSIC STORE

COLUMBIA, S. C. He invites a special examination of the late pa-tented improvements in Hallet, Davis & Co's cele-brated Pianos. Every pianois guarantied.

> BLANKS FOR SALE AT THIS OFFICE.

Carter's Spanish Mixture. THE GREAT PURIFIED OF THE BLOOD

The Best Alterative Known!

The Best Alterative Known!

NOT A PARTILLE OF MERCURY IN IT!

n infallible remedy for Scrofula, King's Evil, Rheunstiam, Obstinate Cutaneous Eruptions, Pimples or Pustules on the Face, Blotches, Boils, Ague and Feyer, Chronic Sore Eyes, Ringworm, or Tetter, Scald-head, Enlargement and pain of the Bones and Joints,
Salt Rheam,
Stubborn Ulcers, Syphilitie Disorders, and all diseases arising from an injudicious use of sing from an injudicious use of Mercury, Imprudence in Life, or

This great alterative Medicine and Purifier This great alterative Medicine and Parifier of the Blood is now used by thousands of grateful patients from all parts of the United Statee, who testify daily to the remarkable cures performed by the greatest of all medicines, "CARTER'SSPANISH MIXTURE." Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Scrofula, Eruptions on the Skin, Liver Disease, Fevers, Ulcers, Old Sores, Affection of the Kid Fevers, Ulcers, Old Sores, Americal of the Kanneys, Diseases of the Throat, Female Complaints, Pains and Aching of the Bones and Joins, are speedily put to flight by using this inestimable remedy.

For all diseases of the Blood, nothing has ye

For all diseases of the Blood, nothing has ye been found to compare with it. It cleanses the system of all impurities, acts gently and efficiently on the Liver and Kidneys, strengthens the Digestion, gives tone to the stomach, makes the Skin clear and healthy, and restores the Constitution, enfectled by disease or broken down by the excesses of youth, to its pristine vigor and strength. For the DISEASES OF FEMALES it is peculiarly applicable and whonever it has become known is plicable, and whenever it has become known is regularly prescribed with the happiest effects. It invigorates the weak and debilitated, and imparts elasticity to the worn out frame, clears the skin, and leaves the patient fresh and healthy; a single bottle of this inestimable remedy is worth all the so-called Samuncillas in existence.

arsaparillas in existence. The large number of certificates which we have received from persons from all parts of the United States is the best evidence that there is no humbug about it. The Press, hotel keepers, magistrates, physicians, and public men, well known to the community, all add their testimony to the wonderful effects of this GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER. Call on the agent and get an Almanac, and road the details of astonishing cures performed by CAR-TER'S SPANISH MIXTURE, (IN MOST CARES WHERE EVERY THING ELSE HAD SIGNALLY PAILED.)
The limits of an advertisement will not admit their

WM. S. BEERS & CO., Proprietors,

No. 304, Broadway, New York
To whom all ordersmust be addressed.
For sale by Druggists and Country Merchants in all parts of the United States and the Canadas and by FISHER & HEINITSH, Spartanburg.
JOHN L. YOUNG, Unionville.

Rogers' Liverworth & Tar OR THE COMPLETE OURE OF COUGHS, COLDS INFLUENZA, ASTUMA, BRONCHITIS, SPIT-TING OF BLOOD, & ALL OTHER LUNG COM-PLAINTS TENDING TO CONSUMPTION. This preparation is getting into use all over our country. The numerous letters we receive from our various agents, informing us of cures effected their immediate neighborhoods, warrant us ough Medicine now before the public. It almost invariably relieves, and not unfrequently cures the very worst cases. When all other Cough preparapery worst cases. When all other Cough prepara-tions have failed, this has relieved the patient, as Druggists, dealers in Medicines, and Physicians, can testify. Ask the Agent in your nearest town, what has been his experience of the effects of this medicine. It he has been selling it for any length of time he will tell you IT IS THE BEST MEDICINE EYTANT.

Below we give a few extracts from letters we have received lately regarding the virtues of the plaints for which it is recommended."

Our Agent in Pickens District, S. C., Mr. S.
R. McFall, assures us "that he uses it with great benefit in his own family, and recommends it to his neighbors." He gives an instance of a Negro woman, in his vicinity, who had been suffering with disease of the Lungs for years, attended with severe cough, who was relieved by the Liverwort and Tax.

The given an instance of a Negro wowere cough, who was relieved by the Liverwort
and Tax.

The show cause, if any, why the estate of the said Elizabeth C. Chapman, deceased, should not be settled and the Ex'or, discharged from further liability, or their consent to the same will be entered of record.

Given under my hand and seal of Office, Dec.
1, 1856.

R. BOWDEN, o. s. D.
Dec 47

121 Such are the good reports we hear of this Midie ne from all parts of the South. For a report of surprising cures it has performed in the West rn and Northern and Eastern States, we would nvite the suffering patient to read the pamphle which accompanies each bottle. To all we say

TRY THE MEDICINE!! BEWARNED IN SEASON. Beware of Counterfeits and Base Imitations!

The genuine article is signed ANDREW ROGER the engraved wrapper around each bottle.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. Sold wholesale and retail by SCOVIL & MEAD.

onlii Charters St., bet. Contiand St. Louis, N. O. Sole Agents for the Southern States, to Sold Wholesale and Retail by

Scovil & Mead, Ill Chartres Street, N. O. General Agents for the Southern States, to whor ll orders must be addressed. SOLD ALSO BY

FISHER & HEINITSH, Spartanburg, So. 7 W. H. WATSON, Greenville E. KRUTCH, KENNON & NORRIS, Unionville, S. R. HENRY, Laurensville
C. L. HARRIS, & CO., Rutherfordton, N. C.

NEW GUN MANUFACTORY. ENGRAVING AND CARVING OF THE FINE ARTS.

THE subscriber, 'recently from London, Paris and the principal cities of Europe and America, where specimens of his art have given the utmost satisfaction, respectfully informs the citizens of the Upper Country, that he has just arrived, and the tion that the heirs at law and legal respectively. do all work appertaining to his business, in the est manner and at the shortest notice, as Double and Single Cast-Steel Rifles and Shot Guns, Ducling Pistols, &c.

He will also keep constantly on hand an asortment of Sporting Materials, which he offers for sale very reasonable terms, finely carved Alligator's ceth, Stoel Tamps, and Eugraving on Gold, Sil-

All Work and Repairing done in the very best onner, and warranted equally as good as can be no in the United States. This shop will be found two doors below Dr. Earle's Drug Store.
Greenville C. H., Aug. 98 27 6m

Dryden's Baltimore

PAST POWDERS. The quickest and sure ever introduced for raising or lightening Bread, and Rells, Short Cake, Buckwheat, Corp., ar, and all other kinds of Griddle Cakes. For liberal advances made on consignments of the same.

Classify D. & HEINTESH'S Drug Store. sale at FISHER & HEINITSH'S Drug Store.

Pure Diamond Starch.

RECEIVED a new lot of this very apperior STARCH, which for whiteness and leastly of polish is not equalled by any Starch made. Put up in whole and haif boxes and by the single pound. or sale at the Chemical Store of Jan. 1 45 16 FISHER & HEINITSH.

THE subscribertakes this method to inform the citizens of the Village and surrounding country, that he is now receiving a good stock of NE BOOKS, at his Book Store, No. 6, Main-atreopposite the Court House, such as are general used in Colleges, Academies and common Englished. A large variety of BOOKS! BOOKS!

MISCELLANEOUS BOOKS

embracing HISTORICAL, BIOGRAPHICAL GEOLOGICAL, MECHANICAL, Poetleel and Munical works, of various sizes and prices.

Some light rending (in the way of Novels.)—RUTH HALL, Farmy Fern's writings; TOM JONES' COURTSHIP, &c. &c.

BLANK BOOKS. A number of H Y M N BOOKS, used by the different denominations of Christians; together with a large assortment of FAMILY BIBLES.

prices from $2.00 to $10.00; small BIBLES, from 50 cents to $1,50 and $2.00 TESTAMENTS from fifteen cents to $1.00. PRAYER BOOKS various prices.

Also a variety of small religious tooks, toy books and Primers.

A good lot of Foolscap, Letter, Commercial and Note Paper. Envelopes from common to the finest

Black, Blue and Red Ink.

NEW MUSIC FOR THE PIANO. Between 500 and 1,000 acw pieces for the Piano, from the best composers, the greatest variety ever offered in the up-country. (We hope the ladies will call and supply themselves.)

I have made permanent arrangements with several large Book Houses in Philadelphia and New York, to exchange my Music Work—the at CASH PRICE, for their Books, &c., at cash prices, nett. I will, therefore, he able to sell Books and Stationery lower than they have ever been sold in Spartanburg; and as I desire to do an entire eash i usiness, if the people will call with their mo-Books, &c., from me, as cheap as they can (at r tril) in Columbia or Charleston.

SOUTHERN LARMONY.

RE CALL AND SEE. WILLIAM WALKER, A. S. H. School teachers supplied on liberal terms P. S. If any person should call for a Book or Books, that I have not got, I will immediately order them if they desire it.
N. B. The New Edition of the Southern Har

MEEY, kept constantly on hand, wholesale and re tail, at the CASH BOOK STORE. May 17 12

The State of South Carolina. SPARTANBURG DISTRICT. IN THE COURT OF ORDINARY. Citation to have Estate Settled.

Citation to have Estate Seitled.

Thomas D. Newman, Exo'r. appt. vs. Riley Lynch and wife, and others, defendants.

I Thaving been shown to my satisfaction that Riley Lynca, and Edith his wife, and the heirs at law of Elizabeth Casey, dee'd., Z. Crow, and Nancy his wife, Christopher Casey, John Nix, and Jane his wife, and Davis Casey, heirs and distributes at law of the Estate of Davis Newman, dee'd, reside from and without the limits of this State: It is therefore ordered, that they and each of them do be and appear at the Court of Ordinary for anid District, to be helden at Spartanburg Court House, on the 23d day of February next, to show cause, if any, why the Estate of the said Davis Newman, dee'd., should not be settled and the Exo'r. disdec'd., should not be settled and the Exo'r. dis the same will be entered of record.

Given under my hand and seal of office, this let December, 1856.

R. ROWDEN, o. s. p.

have received latery regement and Tar recy extensicely in my practice for three years past, and, it is with pleasure I state my belief in the sure-knould be produced for which it is recommended."

A. C. Bomar, ex'or, appellant, ve. B. F. Bomar, and others, defendants.

Mosers Forgetald & Eanners, writing from Waynesville, N. C. say: "The Liverwort and Tar is becoming daily more popular in this Country, and we think yearly so. All who have tried it speak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it, and say it is peak in commendable terms of it and say it is peak in commendable terms of it is not defined in the beirs at law of Carisen Wood, deceined in all evidence in the complaints for the being at law of Elizabeth Commendable terms of its peak in the commendable terms of its peak in the commendable terms of its peak in the commendable terms o Waynesville, N. C., say: The Liverwort and Tar is becoming daily more popular in this Country, AND WE THINK LISTLY SO. All who have tried it speak in commendable terms of it, and say it is very beneficial in alleviating the complaints for which it is recommended."

Our Agent in Pickens District, S. C., Mr. S. R. McFall, assures us "that he uses it with great these fit is therefore hereby ordered that they and each of them be and appear at the Court of Ordinary for said District, to be held at Spartanburg Court House, on the 20th day of February next, to show canse, if any, why the estate hereby ordered that they all each of the said Elizabeth C. Chapman, deceased, reside from and without the limits of this State: It is therefore hereby ordered that they and each of them be and appear at the Spartanburg Court House, on the 20th day of February Lover and the said Elizabeth C. Chapman, deceased, reside that they and each of them be and appear at the Spartanburg Court House, on the 20th day of February Lover and the said Elizabeth C. Chapman, deceased, reside that they and each of them be and appear at the Spartanburg Court House, on the 20th day of February Lover and the said Elizabeth C. Chapman, deceased, reside that they and each of them be and appear at the Spartanburg Court House, on the 20th day of February Lover and the said Elizabeth C. Chapman, deceased, reside that they are the said Elizabeth C. Chapman and each of them be and appear at the said they are th

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA SARTANBURG DISTRICT. IN THE COURT OF ORDINARY.

IN THE COURT OF ORDINARY.

Lorenzo Chapman, Ad'm. App't. vs. Dr. O. G.
Chapman, et al. del'ts.
Citation to settlement.

WHEREAS it has been shown to the satisfaction of this Court that Dr. O. G. Chapman, Wilson Chapman, Samuel Chapman, Wilford Chapman, Wilford Chapman, Wilford Chapman, Wilford Chapman, Honey Chapman, John Chapman, Namey Chapman, to heirs at law of Martia Themson, dee'd,

— Farmer and Ann his wife, Maiden Chapman,
Cynthia Chapman, Wm. P. Chapman, Memory
Chapman, Virgil Chapman, Cheves M. Chapman,
John A. Turuer, Memory H. Turner, George W.
Turner, Abner B. Turner, Dr. John A. Evans and W. D. Evans, heirs and distributers at law and legatees under the will of John Chapman, sr. legatees under the will of John Chapman, sr, dee'd., reside from and without the limits of this dee'd., reside from and without the limits of this State: It is therefore ordered and decreed, that they and each of them be and appear at the Court of Ordinary for said Disafet, to be held at Spartanburg Court Houce, on the 27th day of March next, to show cause, if any exist, why the estate of the said John Chapman, sr., dee'd., should not be finally settled, and the assets of the same ordered to be paid out necording to law, or their consent to the same will be taken pro confesso.

Given under my hand and seal of Office, the 11th Dec., 1836.

K. BOWDEN, o. s. p.
Dec. 18

The State of South Carolina. SPARTANBURG DISTRICT.

IN THE COURT OF ORDINARY. M. Pollard, Adm'r. Applicant, vs. B. M. Pollard, and others, defendants,
Citation to Settlement.

Upper Country, that he has just arrived, and the himself at Greenville, where he is prepared to all work appertaining to his husiness, in the transmer and at the shortest notice, as Double is Single Cost-Sicel Rifles and Shot Guns, Duelt (Pistols, &c.)

He will also keep constantly on hand an asorted of Sporting Materials, which he offers ter sale very reasonable terms; finely carved Alligator's sit, Steel Tunps, and Eugraving on Gold, Sil
Age. he same will be taken pro confesso. Given under my hand and scal of office, 22d day

November, A. D., 1856. R. BOWDEN, Nov. 27 12t o. s. p. BARKULOO & WADDELL. Stock and Exchange Brokers and Cotton

Factors, Columbia, S. C. Will buy and sell State, Gay, Railroad and al other BONDS and STOCKS on commission.